

A WORKSHOP BY WHIT HIBBARD¹ AND MATT BARNES²

May 4-5, 2017

X Diamond Ranch Event Center

Sponsored by the University of Arizona Cooperative Extension, the Marley Endowment for Sustainable Rangeland Stewardship and the Ranching Heritage Alliance

The purpose of the workshop is to provide a basic understanding of the principles and tools necessary to operationalize the role of stockmanship in (a) producing a quality product, (b) live-stock management on forest allotments (including riparian health), and (c) wolf depredation mitigation.

May 4, 2017

7:30 Coffee & registration

8:00 Introduction

8:10 FS Update Richard Madril

8:30 FS Regional Update Judith Dyess and Tolani Francisco

8:45 Apache County Commissioner *Doyel Shamley

9:45 UA Natural Resources Law and Policy Center Cindy Delancey

10-10:15 BREAK

10:15-4:30 Stockmanship and its role in producing a quality product

Whit Hibbard

LUNCH PROVIDED

May 5, 2017

8-11:30AM Stockmanship and its role in livestock management on forest allotments and wolf depredation mitigation

Whit Hibbard and Matt Barnes

¹ Whit Hibbard is a fourth generation Montana rancher, former NPS mounted ranger in charge of trespass livestock, editor of Stockmanship Journal, and low-stress livestock handling instructor.

² Matt Barnes is the owner of Shining Horizons Land Management, Field & Research Coordinator for People and Carnivores, and Associate Editor of Rangelands.